

Validation

Nancy Brown, a Certified Validation Teacher since 2018, has assisted with online Validation courses including webinar series for the National Certification Council for Activity Professionals. For over 16 years, she has served as group supervisor in a therapeutic Day Center for persons with cognitive impairment. She is also a PhD candidate in Dementia studies at the University of Edinburgh.

Basic Validation Training

For people who want to better communicate with older adults living with dementia.